

Early Journal Content on JSTOR, Free to Anyone in the World

This article is one of nearly 500,000 scholarly works digitized and made freely available to everyone in the world by JSTOR.

Known as the Early Journal Content, this set of works include research articles, news, letters, and other writings published in more than 200 of the oldest leading academic journals. The works date from the mid-seventeenth to the early twentieth centuries.

We encourage people to read and share the Early Journal Content openly and to tell others that this resource exists. People may post this content online or redistribute in any way for non-commercial purposes.

JSTOR is a digital library of academic journals, books, and primary source objects. JSTOR helps people discover, use, and build upon a wide range of content through a powerful research and teaching platform, and preserves this content for future generations. JSTOR is part of ITHAKA, a not-for-profit organization that also includes Ithaka S+R and Portico. For more information about JSTOR, please contact support@jstor.org.

Each member is urged to read carefully the proposed amendments to the National Constitution. Lack of space forbids reviewing these proposed changes, but the record of proceedings is so complete that each reader will be clear on every point if he will take time to read the entire record as contained in this issue.

No doubt this number of the Magazine will fail to reach every member promptly, owing to the inability of the corresponding secretaries to obtain complete and correct mailing lists. If you know of a brother who is not receiving the Magazine, send his name and address to his chapter or to us.

Please keep us promptly informed of your change of address.

Regarding Communications

Contributors to the PHI DELTA KAPPAN will please keep in mind the following regulations and suggestions:

1. All contributions from individuals, excepting the members of the Editorial Board, are to be sent through the writer's chapter. If the chapter approve it, the corresponding secretary will forward it to the Managing Editor for publication.

2. Corresponding secretaries are to send in all communications that are submitted for publication. We shall always take it for granted that a communication from a corresponding secretary has been approved by his chapter, or by a committee appointed for that purpose.

3. Preparation of manuscript: Use typewriter, bond or ledger paper, double-space, and write on one side of paper only. Send us a carbon copy of the manuscript, with the original. Sign your name or write a letter accompanying manuscript. These instructions may seem trivial, but each is given for very important reasons. And, for goodness sake, don't forget to proof-read your manuscript carefully. A little time spent by you in proof-reading your manuscript may save you and us a good deal of embarrassment.

4. Address all communications to

ABEL J. McALLISTER,

Managing Editor Phi Delta Kappan,
2801 East 6th St.,
Kansas City, Mo.
